ABOUT THE WRATHFUL SAWYER AND THE PURIOUS STRELE.

The examination in regard to the shooting of Dr. Theophilus Steele by William E. Sawyer, the electrician, was continued at the Tombs Police Court yesterday. Mrs. Mandelick, the landlady of the house where both at one time boarded, was put on the stand, and denied the words attributed to her by the defendant and his wife. She denied having said to Mrs. Sawyer that Dr. Steele would "tix her husband," and denied having quoted any of Dr. Steele's threats. In cross-examination she indignantly repudiated the title of "proprietres;" of the house she lives in, and insisted that she was "the lady" of the house several times. Her boarders also she would persist in alluding to as "guests."

Thomas A. Killroy, coachman at the Hotel Bristol, testified that Mr. Berger, nephew of Mrs. Mandelick, had threatened, in his hearing to shoot Dr. Sawyer, Mr. Sawyer was recalled, and said that the feeling shown toward him by Mrs. Mandelick was due to his refusing her advances. One night, very late, she opened the door for him, and his wife said she kissed him, but he was not sure about it. She might have attempted it.

Charles Hess deposed that on the night of the shooting he saw Dr. Steele in the street endeavoring to overtake Mr. Sawyer. He heard Dr. Steele address Sawyer in profane terms, saying that he shad him now. He saw him slap Sawyer's face. He saw Dr. Steele backing toward Forty-first-st., between the hydrant and the lamp-post, He saw him hurriedly draw what appeared to be a pistol, and soon afterward heard the noise of the pistol falling on the ground. Dr. Steele picked it up. Immediately afterward Dr. Steele said, "——you. Sawyer, I have you now." Sawyer made some reply and then there was a flash, and he next saw Dr. Steele with one hand to his head, which was bleeding, stooping down to pick up his pistol, which had dropped on the pavement. The pistol had a white handle. Mr. Sawyer had in the meantime gone away.

Officer Navlan said that he arrested Mr. Sawer on Officer Naylan said that he arrested Mr. Sawer on the night of April 5; he was standing at Forty-recond-st. and Broadway about 7:15 p. m.; he had been in conversation with a person about five minutes when he heard a shot, and went in the direction from which the report came; he found Dr. Steele wounded, and blood tricking from his face; Steele told him that he had been shot by Professor Sawyer; he then followed Sawyer, and on coming up with him tapped him on the shoulder and told him that he was a prisoner; he then took him to the Rossmore Hotel, where Dr. Steele was, and Steele identified him; witness was told by Steele that he had no pistol.

The examination was adjourned for a week.

RAPE PLANTS AT HIGH PRICES.

RAFE PLANTS AT HIGH PRICES.

The semi-weekly plant sale at the Horticultural Auction Rooms in Cortlaudt-st, yesterday, was of unusual interest to the lovers of floral rarities. The plant-houses of George Tweddle, of Albany, have been well known for years among cothusiastic collectors, and the entire stock was offered by the owner, who will soon leave this State for a long residence in Colorado. The collection was particularly noteworthy for erchids, of which about 275 specimens were sold, almost every plant representing a distinct variety. The list comprised ten varieties of grides, six varieties of angracum, twenty-two of cattleya, six of cymbidium, twenty-three of cyprepedium, thirty-one of odontoglossum, twenty-one of laclia, twenty of odontoglossum, twenty-one of ordidam, twelve phakenepais and seventeen of vanda. Most of the orchids were finely grown and many of them extra large specimens. They were rapidly disposed of at figures which were starting to the buyers of ordinary plants. The fellowing were some of the prices paid: For angracum sesquipedale, $135; A. superbum, $65; A. courneum, $75; serides odoretum, $27; A. fuldingi, $25; cattleya mossiae, $28; cattleya grgas, $32; C. labiata, $175; C. Warsceweczii, $65; C. speciosissima, $42; cælogyne custata, $75; dendrobum wardianum, $43; D. densedorum, $30; lælia elegaus, $50; lycarte Skinner's superba, $90; Odonto glossum vexillarium, $100; oneidium marghalii, $33; phalænopsis Inddemannia, $65; saccelabium guttatum holfordianum, $200; vanda triculor corningii, $225; vanda snavis (Veitelr's variety), $250.

Besides the orchids, a large collection of stove and green-house plants, comprising over 100 varieties was sold.

BURGLARIES ON STATEN ISLAND.

Within the last few weeks the burglaries upon Staten Island have been so boldly planned and of so frequent occurrence as to lead to the belief that the guilty persons are organized for mutual assistance. The house of Charles Hagadorn, in Westervelt-ave., New-Brighton, was entered and robbed of silverware. Mr. DeForest's house, on Grimes's Hill, was broken into and a large amount of property, including silverware and small articles, was carried off. The thieves had also prepared a large package of valuable articles, which, in their fear of discovery, they neglected to remove. Mrs. Hoyt, living in Wright-st. Stapleton, awoke early a few mornings ago and discovered a strange man in her room. She alarmed her husband, who seized the intruder and made a desperate attempt to pinion him. The struggle was continued on the staircase, and when the door was reached the burglar succeeded in releasing himself and, turning, fired at Mr. Hoyt. The shot was without effect, other than to afford the robber an opportunity to escape. An evidence of the persistency of the gang in the work was seen in the attempt to rob the house of Charles Hamilton, at West Brighton. In their first incursion they were frightened by a servant and fled without booty. On the following night they returned, and with a "jinamy" attempted to pry open a window. In this they were unsuccessful, and they went away, leaving tracks in the flower-beds. The police have as yet obtained no evidence in any of the cases, and no arrests have been made. CAUGHT "SHORT" ON WHEAT.

Yesterday being the closing of the month, it was anticipated that there would be a reaction in breadsulis, but the only transaction of note in the Produce Exchange was the delivery of two car-loads of No. 2 Northwest Spring wheat by David Dows & Co. to Heghes, Hickox & Co., the purchasers, who had sold the wheat to Jesse Hoyt & Co. It is said that the latter holds most of this grade of wheat, but David Dows & Co. had the two car-loads in Jersey City and could not deliver the wheat in time. The matter was hald before the Grain Committee, and vesterday at the second call the chairman stated that David Dows & Co. were in default of the delivery, and that in accordance with Rule 21 the committee would have to purchase it, providing it was not bought at an unreasonable price, "arising from manipulated or fletitious markers or unusual detention or transportation." The bids began at $1, the market price being $1 23, and rose to $1 28, when the chairman of the committee declined to go any higher. Mr. Hickox appealed to the trade, calling attention to a precedent already established, and the trade sustained the appeal, when the price ran up to $1 39, and the wheat was bought in. The matter created considerable rejoicing among some of the members.

The markets were generally heavy. Wheat advanced from 1 to 2 cents a bushel on a speculative movement, corn dechaed from ½ to % cents and buts and flour were steady.

THE BILL TO TAX FOREIGN BANKS.

THE BILL TO TAX FOREIGN BANKS.

It is understood that Governor Cornell will not take any action to-day on the bill for the taxation of foreign banking capital. He was in New-York yesterday, and to the agents of Canadian banks who called on him he intimated that he should pestpone action until a further hearing on the measure could be had. It was arranged that representatives of the foreign banks should go to Abany on Monday and confer with the members of the committee which reported the bill. Waiter Watson, agent of the Bank of Montreal; Mr. Roberts, manager of the Créant Lyoanaise; George L. Brander, of the Nevada Bank of San Franceso, together with George De Forest Lord, and perhaps others of the counsel for the banks, will take part in the conference. A meeting of the agents will be held to-day for the purpose of devising some plan of taxation that will be acceptable to the committee and to the banks. It is not certain that any plan will be adopted until after the conference with the committee. The agents of foreign banks yesterday expressed confidence that some arrangement of the matter would be made. They said that the banks were willing to pay a just tax, and that from their conversation with the Governor it was evident that no more than that was desired by him or the committee. It would not be difficult, it was thought, under these circumstances, to agree upon some method of taxing foreign capital. THE BILL TO TAX FOREIGN BANKS.

Stephen Higgins, Thomas Farley and William Butler, the three thieves who were arrested for stealing pictures from the ruins of the Madison Square Garden, were arraigned for examination yesterday afternoon before Justice Otterbourg at the Jefferson Market Police Court. The prisoner Batler said that on that night he was in the house of Hook and Ladder No. 7, when Higgins came in and wanted to borrow his coat, saying that he had stolen three pictures and he wanted to get away from the "coppers" (policemen). He had nothing to do with stealing the pictures. George H. Story, the artist, who was the custodian of the pictures, said that there were seven pictures missing, but one of them had just been returned to T. W. Woods at his studio in West Tenth-st.

The lost paintings belonged to Mr. Story, Messrs. Halsey, Vedder, Champney and Simonetti, It was said bhat the painting of Mr. Haissy, of No. 12 West Fitty-third-st, was valued at $1,000. The prisoners were remanded to the custody of Officer Schmitteerger, of the Twenty-ninth Precinct, who arrested them until to-day.

COMPLAINT AGAINST A POLICEMAN. Nathao Rosenberg, a pedlar of soap and combs, complained yesterday at Police Headquarters of the conduct of policeman No. 567. The officer, he said, entered a beer-shop at No. 131 Bowery, where he was disposing of his wares, and bought a comb, but when it was given to him wanted two for his money. When the vender refused his demand the officer struck him. At the direction of the Superintendent a formal complaint was made against the officer. No. 567 is Officer Henry Drought, of the First Presidet.

STIFLED IN HIS BED.

Matthew Mallaban, a liquor seller at Third-ave, and Eighty-sixth-st., closed his store at 12 o'clock on Thursday night and went ant with two customers who had been drinking at his bar. As they went out each of the two lighted a cigar and threw the matches on the floor behind a whiskey barrel, the drupping of which had collected in a little pool. They had set gone across the street before the store was in flames. The nonse is a two story frame building and the fire quickly reached the upper floors. The family of Patrick Cannon, who lived over the store, escaped but their household goods were destroyed.

An old man by the name of John Kennedy, employed as a gardener in Central Park, who had a room in the attic, was not so fortunate. He had come home intexicated and his heavy sleep was not disturbed by the cries of alarm in the street. After the fire had been put out, he was found, stilled by the smoke and with singed beard and clothes. The police removed the body and called the Coroner and Fire Marshal to make an investigation. The proprietor of the store was arrested, but immediately again set free, and the two customers who had left the store with him were found. The building was the property of Spies Brothers, at No. 127 Chatham-st. It was damaged $3,000 and what remains of it is in an unsafe condition. The dram-seller's stock was insured for $1,000. The tenant, Cannon's loss is $200.

Henry Church, keeper of boats at the Harlem Bridge, saw a woman of middle age throw herself off the bridge into the river yesterday afternoon. Ho rescued her. She gave her name as Charlotte Krouse, wife of Louis Krouse, of No. 309 East Forty-fourth-st. On the bridge above Church found Mrs. Krouse's four children with whom she had been standing when she leaped into the water. In the Harlem Police Court she was committed for examination as to her mental condition. She refused to tell the cause of her attempted suicide.

Detective Jacob R. Wilkins, of the Thirty-third Precinct was before Commissioners Nichols and Voorhis Thursday, charged by Arthur G. Bedell, of The Westchester Limes, with threatening to kill him if he did not stop publishing his name in connection with certain alleged exposures of the policy-shop business in the precinct. The detective denied the charge but admitted that he had threatened to do all in his power to break up his paper. Decision was reserved. THREATS BY A DETECTIVE.

A STOCK JOBBING STORY DISPROVED.

ME, VANDERBILT AND MR. GOULD DENY THE RE-PORT OF A GREAT SALE OF WESTERN UNION. A sensational story to the effect that William II. Vanderbilt had sold to Jay Gould one hundred thou-sand shares of Western Union Telegraph stock at par, involving the large amount of $10,000,000, was pub lished at length in The New-York Times yesterday. THE TRIBUNE merely alluded to it as an improbable rumor which could not be confirmed, although several reporters were sent to the persons who were likely to know the facts. The story was evidently concocted for stock jobbing purposes, since i proves to be untrue in every particular, as the following interviews show.

Mr. Vanderbilt was asked by a TRIBUNE repo who saw him at his home yesterday, if there was any truth in the report.

"It is not true," said Mr. Vanderbilt in reply. "Thave not sold 100,000 shares nor one share. Mr. Gould has not applied to me for any. I have more Western Union stock in my name now than I have ever had before, and I do not want to seil it I haven't sold any Western Union, Central or Lake Shore stock in three months. In fact, since the sale of the Central stock Thaven't sold any large blocks of stocks whatever. My stocks are all in the care of safe deposit companies, and will stay there until I get back from Europe. Instead of selling I have been buying stocks. I don't think Mr. Gould has said any such thing as that I was selling my stock," George P. Morosini, the private secretary of Mr. Gould, said that he had been authorized to say that there was no foundation for the report. After consultation with Mr. Gould the secretary reiterated the denial saying that Mr. Gould had first learned of the rumor from persons who had made inquiries about the matter at his office and from the morning newspapers. Mr. Gould autherized apositive denial.

Officers of the American Union Telegraph Company, who would in all probability know of the transaction if it had taken place, said that they were very confident that no such purchase had been

BEING INTERMINATED-BILLS PASSED. FROM THE BEGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE. ALBANY, April 30,-The monotony of the ASSEMBLY'S daily life was broken to-day by an interesting statement in regard to the oldest surviving ex-member of the Assembly. Mr. Chickering, of Lewis County, said that in the year 1819 his county was represented in the Assembly by Levi Robbins, then and now a resident of the town of Denmark. The man was still living. and had to-day reached the remarkable age of one hun-dred. When he was a member, sixty-one years before, DeWitt Clinton was Governor of the State; Obadiah German, Speaker, and among the members were Alexander Hamilton, Richard Hatfield, J. R. Van Rensselaer and Peter Sharpe. Then the present " Old Capital ' was used; and Mr. Robbins had assured the present member from Lewis that there were no complaints of the acoustic properties of the Assembly Chamber, and there was nothing to disturb members beyond " the drumming of partridges in the neighboring forest." In conclusion, Mr. Chickering presented a resolution warmly congratulating Mr. Robbins upon the attainment of such great age. After some words from the venerable Mr. Alvord extelling "the good old times," the resolutions were passed by a unanimous

Professor Spencer F. Baird, at a meeting of the Fish Culturists' Association in New-York recently, stated that the lob-ter was in danger of being exterminated, owing to the constant war upon it by the fishermen. He also said that the States of Madine, New-Hampaulice and Massachusofts, in consequence of its rapidly diminishing numbers, had passed a bill for its protection. A suggestion was made at the same meeting that the Legislature of New-York should pass a similar law; and it is out of regard for that suggestion that the Committee on Game Laws reported a bill to-say.

Bills were reported in the Assemb y regulating the appointment of receivers; authorizing the holders of mortsages to pay taxes and assessments thereon; amending the act to facilitate the admission of wills; relative to foreign corporations transacting business in this State; relative to Fourth-ave. THE REPUBLICAN CONFERENCE A BILL TO SECURE A PAIR ELECTION IN NEW-YORK -SATISFACTION THAT OTHER CHARTER LEGISLA-TION HAS BEEN ADANDONED.

FROM THE REGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE. ALBANY, April 30 .-- The conference held in General Arthur's rooms, at the Delayan House, last night, was the subject of a good deal of talk in the Legislature to-day. The conference dissolved at so late at hour—nearly 2 a. m.—that few members who did not attend it were aware of its proceedings till late this morning. When it became known that the plan of the leaders of the party was merely to pass a bill to maintain the equal representation in the Bureau of Elections of party there was a general feeling of satisfaction. cans would have voted for any partisan measure revinitionizing the entire government of New-York City, proposition to insize an honest election of New-York City, proposition to insize an honest election of New-York invever, is always popular with the country Republicans, believing as they do the they have frequently been detraided of the renefit of their labor before election by fraudeo election day in the metropoits. A committee was a pointed at the conference to draw up a bill embodying purpose to secure ryond all danger an honest election in November in New-York. This committee constant of Senators Straham, Milis, Sessions and Davee tout, and Assembiguous Alvord, Varnam, Michel Caipenter, Skinger and Terry. A draft of the propose bill will probably be submitted to this committee of Tucaday next. If approved, the hill wall then be intraduced in the Legislators, and pushed through with great vigor. As the Democrats always oppose any satemarks to secure fair elections, their detaily opposite to the bill may be confidently expected.
